

ETHAN'S VIDEO GAME MAKING CARRER

When Ethan was a little boy he liked to play video games. He always thought they were cool and fun.

One day, when Ethan was in tenth grade, his mom said "Ethan, you know how you like video games, well I think you should create video games for a living. Ethan said "Good idea mom, maybe I will." So that was petty much all he thought about that day. He kind of wanted to be a Veterinarian too, so he couldn't decide which one to be. So one day he thought he would go to a summer camp for making video games. Ethan's sister who lives in Rochester, NY, brought home a pamphlet for a really nice summer camp for people who want to make video games. So that summer Ethan went, he had a lot of fun and even won an award for making the best game there! His teacher was really impressed because Ethan was new at making games. He told Ethan, "If you continued making games like this one you could have your own business someday."

Ethan made a lot of mistakes in the beginning, but learned from his mistakes.

His game was about traveling state to state looking for clues to solve a mystery. Each time you play, the mysteries change and they get more challenging.

When the next year came he went to a Veterinarian camp. He really didn't like it, he hated seeing animals almost die, but he liked the animals. He saw a horse give birth to twins. At first they were OK but then one died, so he knew that was not the right job for him. Ethan thought he could make a game about raising and caring for animals. He made this game so he could be a game maker and a Veterinarian.

There was a competition to see who could make the best game in NY and the winner would get $150.00. Ethan thought he would enter. He had not created the Veterinarian game yet so he thought he would enter that game. After he was done with it he was very impressed with it. The winner was Ethan!!!! He was very excited.

When Ethan was 23 years old his games were selling very fast in stores. He had made 100 games. There were action games, adventure games, animal games, and so on. His most popular game was called Ethan Eater Beater. It is about a kid named Ethan and u pick his career and live it.

When Ethan was 25 years old he had millions and millions of dollars.

He made his own game system and called it Ethan-box. He was very happy with his career. Then he heard bad news, his mom was in the hospital and had a very serious disease that had no cure. He got very sad. The doctors tried everything to keep her alive. Ethan sent a video game to the doctors that was about magical cures using plants. The doctors got an idea from the game and tried this last idea to cure her. It worked!!!! After one month she was perfectly fine. Ethan was very happy and he gave his mom one million dollars for giving him the idea to be a game maker!!!!!!! Ethan not only made cool games, but also saved his mom's life.
