

Ethan the Entrepreneur Contest Entry
Author Jordan Kayes of Allegany Limestone Central School,
Allegany Campus
Teacher Mrs. Keenan, Grade 4

A boy named Ethan, who is about 19 years old, decided to open an amusement park called eight flags. He tore down the Allegany High School to make room for the park. Kids 12 and under get in for free. There would be a roller coaster, dunk tank, laser tag, and a game room. In the game room you put in tokens and get tickets for prizes.

Ethan didn't like the rides at Darien Lake because the prices were too high. We have a bus that picks the kids up from school if their parents say it's okay. I would pay workers $21 an hour. Ethan would send out flyers and put it on T.V. The park is educational for kids of all ages. Students could come here instead of school for the whole day until they have to go home.

There is a social studies ride that teaches history, a science showdown when you make a really cool experiment that turns into slimy goo, then you get to keep the goo, and a spelling bee. Whoever wins the spelling bee gets a really big prize. In the back of the park there is a petting zoo, normal zoo with komodo dragons, cheetahs, moneys, and anaconda snakes. On the way out you come to a gift shop. The highest p rice is $5.

The amusement park is stationary, but there are a bunch of them around the world. The park is never closed. Instead of being open on Christmas there is an ice skating rink behind the park. It is about the size of HSBC arena. You should come prepared with ice skates, warm clothes, and money for snacks. We also would have skates to borrow for $1. Sometimes one of the Sabres players comes to the rink. Ryan Miller signs autographs on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays. It is $5 for a picture.

There is a sweepstakes and if you win you get two tickets to a Sabres game, a jersey signed by Ryan Miller, and a trip to Disney World in Orlando Florida. There is a Superman vs. Batman show at 5:00 PM everyday. They really hate each other, but at the end they become pals that team up and fight crime. The actor who plays Batman is Zac Efron. The actor who plays Superman is the Undertaker of WWE r Night Smackdown.

Now it is 2008. All the money from Ethan's amusement park helped him get into a great college called St. Bonaventure University.